THE 2010 SEASON

Ricky Gunn

A challenging summer

The 2010 season was a difficult one for the club. Availability was poor at the start of the season. This meant that teams at the top the club were weaker than normal and some 4th XI league games were cancelled for the first time ever. The reasons for this are a combination of a change in organisation in the cricket committee, lack of a website pre-season, and the lack of a 3rd XI captain. A major effort was made by the cricket committee to reverse this problem and, on a positive note, this was largely achieved by introducing youngsters into the lower teams once the exam period had finished. However, later in the season some players seemed to be dispirited by poor results and availability in the middle teams dropped off again. Sides played, but were weak. In amongst all this, Southgate lost one of its best loved members, Geoff Slipper, about whom a tribute follows immediately after this introduction.

The 1st XI were mostly immune from these problems for league games. Although again without a guest overseas player, the core of the team regularly turned out and performed well in league games, though they struggled in cups on Sundays. They were in the top three of their division for most of the season, but just missed out on promotion in a very tight league, finding it difficult to turn draws into wins in the second half of the season. Alvin Durgacharan continued his wonderful form of 2009 with 721 League runs including a century against Harrow Town and seven other scores over 50. He was well supported by Matt Creese with 466 runs and Tom Allan with 394. James Watkins announced his arrival later in the season at Southgate with a memorable hundred against Enfield. Creese proved his invaluable worth by taking 30 wickets, while Tuan Hadgie weighed in with 29 and Faisal Mir with 24. This is a critical development for Southgate as taking all ten wickets in a half-day game on invariably flat tracks is the only way to ensure promotion – and then beyond.

The other teams, however, generally struggled. This was partly due to the very difficult and slow start to the year due itself to the lack of available players. In particular the 2nd XI had a very challenging year. Playing in the top division for 2nd XIs in the Middlesex League against very strong opposition they did not manage to win a league game. Spirit was good for most of the season, but inevitably morale dropped towards the end. Nevertheless, newcomers Rob Dawson-Goodey and Olly Bellwood showed promise with the bat. While 17 year-old Tom Edrich continues to develop as a batsman, the team found itself relying on Paddy Robinson and William Dean when they were available to play. The principal weakness, though, was in the bowling where only Adam Vinson with 16 wickets made it to double-figures.

The lack of players at the start of the season had a major on effect on the 3rd and 4th XIs. The 3rd XI had the challenge of having a few different captains at the start of the year, but in the end had sufficient ability and experience to comfortably avoid relegation. The better 3rd XI players found themselves drawn into the 2nds and the 4ths into the 3rd XI. No batsman in the 3rd XI reached 150 league runs, and only Paul Lassman (with 17) and Arvind Shah (16) exceeded 12 wickets. The instability of the sides was evidenced by the fact that no fewer than 48 players represented the 2nd XI and an even more remarkable 53 for the 3rd XI in 2010.

Cancellation of four 4th XI 1987 League games in succession at the start of the season presaged an inevitable relegation. Fortunately there was some improvement towards the middle and end of the season and so there is something to build on. As a result, the 4th XI were eventually only relegated on the last day of the season after a good fight. Gunn (251), Dowsett (114) and Gordon (111), at some horrific combined age, were the only batsmen to exceed 100 runs in the season. The loss of Roy Marett to the 3rd XI and only three appearances from Stuart Cradock meant a heavy burden on skipper Len Stokes who took 22 wickets. No-one else made double-figures. However, the lack of experienced players had a healthy spin-off in that it did precipitate the senior colts into the world of adult cricket. Although we could not expect a dramatic upsurge of victories it provided some cricket-hungry lads with a ready source of games. Ricky Gunn and Len Stokes represented the 1987 League XI and an inaugural Middlesex Over 60s game against Surrey. (There was a little flexibility on the age in the circumstances!)

Games on Sundays got off to the same poor start as Saturdays. There were difficult cup games against strong opposition, but eventually several good friendlies were played as Paul Lassman, in addition to taking over the job of Team Secretary mid-season, took on the job of raising and captaining Sunday XIs.

Over the season Alvin Durgacharan was the highest run-scorer with 859, followed by Phil Dunnett who continued to display his natural youthful ability with 596 runs including a maiden century coupled with 26 dismissals behind the stumps. Matt Creese (567) and Tom Yeomans (551 including a maiden Southgate hundred) were the only other players to exceed 500. Our poor season was also evidenced by the greatest individual wicket haul being only 38, shared by Len Stokes and Paul Lassman, followed by Tuan Hadgie (36) and Matt Creese (35). Perhaps the best individual batting highlight was Rob Johnson's 88 from 61 balls (4 sixes, 9 fours) in the new Jim Conroy Trophy against the eventual competition winners Cockfosters.

A new trophy, donated by Pat Slipper, the Geoff Slipper Spirit of Cricket Award for playing cricket in the right way, was awarded to Mark Singleton.

The new Southgate CC website was launched in the summer. This has been the culmination of many months of hard work by Hiren Patel, who has built and designed what I'm sure you'll agree is a fantastic site. He did it at no financial cost to the Club and we owe him a huge debt of gratitude. His company advert you'll see on the left hand side of the site - this is the very least we could do for him. Hiren has set up probably the finest site in the league and it'll be the envy of many clubs. The site, we hope, will be a major help moving the club forward over the coming years. It will be where any potential players, sponsors, supporters, colts, parents etc will look before deciding whether this is the club for them and where members and anyone else interested can keep up with events past and future at the Club.

1941 - 2010

Southgate Cricket Club was deeply saddened to learn that Geoff Slipper died on 22 July.

Geoff joined the club in 1969 having previously played cricket and football for Old Stationers. A medium-pace bowler who could move it in the air and get deviation off the pitch, he was difficult to score runs off. In addition he was capable of entertaining “cameo” innings lower down the order. Geoff quickly established himself in the old Extra 1st XI (who played exclusively in friendlies and cup matches and continued so to do even when the leagues were well established). His ability to bowl straight, and even more importantly to bowl to the field set for him, made him a great asset and was much appreciated by his captain (invariably Bob Cole). Geoff was a safe catcher either close to the wicket or out in the sticks; his batting, which in his youth had been his mainstay, was in later years generally rather belligerent – he certainly favoured the midwicket area. His other trick was the ability to shut up shop if it was necessary to play for a draw.

He was a regular in the Extra 1st XI throughout the 1970s and achieved his best return of 7-17 in a National Knock-Out match against Hurlingham Oddfellows in 1977, a year in which he took 76 wickets.

Amongst numerous 50s, his best were 79 against Aspenden in 1987 and 72 out of a seventh wicket stand of 109 against Kings Langley in 1980. Although he played for the 3rd XI league side in the 1990s he was not a fan of league cricket, preferring the camaraderie of the club’s Saturday “A” XI where he was equally popular amongst the oppositions. 1983 saw a change in both Geoff’s and Southgate’s cricket: the Saturday Extra 1st were abolished and a new team, Southgate A XI, were created. The A team aimed to play village-style cricket mainly in Hertfordshire, and the bulk of the players chosen were approaching middle-age who had perhaps left their very best cricket behind them. Peter Chadwick captained this team for its entire life (just under 20 years, by which time the Hertfordshire villages were going into leagues) and Peter, like Bob, used Geoff as his dependable bowler.

Geoff played some cricket for other clubs: he always played in the Old Stationers Presidents XI at Botany Bay and he usually went with the OS on their day match at Hambledon. He played for the midweek Malcontents and occasionally the Dales. He toured Devon several times with Southgate Compton and took a hat trick at Seaton. He was a keen and popular member of Southgate’s cricket tours in the 1970s. In more recent years Geoff found a home at the Bay becoming a regular member of the Cuffley and District Geranium Debating Society and Choral Group and ensuring a regular turnover of the draught cider. More recently he organised the annual Veterans XI match against Southgate Compton in which he played his final game in 2008.

Over the previous twelve months Geoff had borne the treatment for prostate cancer with stoicism but the prospect of further radiotherapy was too daunting. Following the funeral service A celebration of Geoff's life continued at Botany Bay cricket Club with many memories of a very special man and true gentleman.

For many years Geoff ran the Under 11s section of Southgate Colts, where his relaxed but informative style made him as popular as with his adult colleagues.

Southgate Cricket Club has lost a very dear friend and keen supporter and he will be much missed. Our sincere condolences go to his wife Pat and family. We may have lost Geoff but that unmistakable twinkle of the eye will live with us forever.

3rd XI League

The trials and tribulations of a 3rd XI skipper, to provide a flavour of the 2010 season.

An email account of Richard Bishop-Laggett's experience one week end last summer.

3rd XI vs South Hampstead – 3 July 2010
South Hampstead won by 53 runs
South Hampstead 173 all out (38.1 overs)
Southgate 120 all out (38.2 overs)

Short diary of the weekend.....

- Friday morning - call with Sage – found out was Captain – on train, can't swear – gone into tunnel – cut off – decide not to call back – too upsetting.
- Friday afternoon - Sage sends e-mail confirming ground
- Friday late afternoon – Send out e-mail asking players to contact me – contacted by a few people, some not selected – very strange
- Friday evening – plan out what side does and research opposition – chased everything so far - must win toss and bowl
- Friday later in evening – find out side completely changed – only have 10 - rewrite plan and steal Roy from 4's in late night raid - assume Lenny to drunk to respond to e-mail
- Saturday morning – Make calls to seemingly most of club – all bar Hafiz confirmed – Hadders assures me he's confirmed
- Saturday 11:15 – Pick up Crash and wait at Arnos Grove for Lenny and scorebook – Lenny late (predictably)
- Saturday 11:30 - Planned departure time at club – everyone there except Hafiz
- Saturday Noon – Depart leaving Sam (who has driven from Harrow to pick people up to go back to somewhere near Harrow - Star) to hang on for Hafiz
- Saturday 12:10 – Sam leaves – No Hafiz
- Saturday 12:20 – Lenny calls – Hafiz here – “He might as well play for us now”
- Saturday 12:25 – Hafiz dropped at Arnos Grove – Go to Greenford Tube, near Hanger Lane and phone RBL for instructions on where ground is
- Saturday 12:45 – All on ground except Hafiz– No South Hampstead – Call South Hampstead Club House – Number disconnected - Worried
- Saturday 12:50 – Call Sage – Sage in Supermarket buying lubricant – Confirms spoke to Dipak
- Saturday 12:55 – Try Dipak – No answer – Leave message
- Saturday 12:59 – Find out South Hampstead Captains number – Just pulled into car park

- Saturday 13:25 – Skipper finally ready for toss – “heads” – win toss - “You can have a bat”!
- Saturday 13:35 – Start bowling – 2 Early wickets for Marrett – They smash it
- Saturday 13:50 – Hafiz calls – Outside Woodford Green station (Essex) – Point out Southgate in Middlesex league
- Saturday 14:00 – Hafiz on Tube back to Greenford nr Hanger Lane (Middlesex)
- Saturday 14:01 – 15:10 – Wicket for Marret, Ali and Lassman (2) – Good catches and run out by Sabine – They are still smashing it
- Saturday 15:11 – Hafiz arrives
- Saturday 15:45 – Bring Hafiz onto bowl - takes last 3 wickets! 61 overs to get 173
- Saturday 16:40 – Southgate start batting – Going OK apart from Early wicket
- Saturday 17:00 – 18:00 – Umpire gives 3 of top 5 LBW, others play back on front foot wicket – Game we should have won slipping away
- Saturday 18:30 – Umpire finishes game with 4th LBW – All out 118.
- Saturday 18:45 – Have quiet word with opposition skipper about umpire having a very good grasp and understanding of the laws during first innings and applying judgment well. Seemed to lose judgment on LBW, wides and no balls in second innings – perhaps dehydrated and needed more fluids.

Enfield win first Jim Conroy final

ENFIELD Cricket Club defeated Edmonton in the first ever final of the Jim Conroy trophy on Saturday.

The tournament brought together four sides from the London Borough of Enfield – the others were Cockfosters and Southgate – to celebrate the life of former Enfield Grammar School cricket master Jim Conroy, a year after his death.

Edmonton batted first on a crisp autumnal day at Enfield, scoring a disappointing 141 in less than their allocated 40 overs, with Patrick Blair and Lee Robertson bowling tightly for Enfield.

In reply, Enfield were rocked by a superb opening spell from Edmonton captain Kieran Dodds, who took five wickets to leave Enfield staring defeat in the face.

But the other Edmonton bowlers could not match the incisiveness of Dodds and Enfield knocked off the runs with the loss of only one further wicket. Unbeaten at the end was Patrick Blair, who capped a man of the match performance with an outstanding 67 not out.

Umpire Paul Nicholls presented the trophy to Enfield’s winning captain, Neil Tilley, and paid tribute to his close friend, Mr Conroy.

Mr Nicholls said: “Jim would have enjoyed the spirit with which the final was played and supported the aim of the tournament – to provide competitive interest to the end of the cricket season.”

Mr Conroy was a long-serving physics teacher at Enfield Grammar School with a huge passion for cricket, which he passed on to many generations through his years as Master in Charge of Cricket at the school. He was also closely involved with club cricket through Southgate, where he served as first XI captain and more recently president.

Southgate Colts 2010

Ricky Gunn

In 2010 the number of active colts between the ages of 8 and 15 totalled 107.

All three age-group teams played ten games in their respective first divisions in the Middlesex East Colts League.

All three age-group teams played ten games in their respective first divisions in the Middlesex East Colts League.

The Under 15s finished 3rd out of six where team captain Josh Berman and Mark Hughes were the main run scorers. Will Temple batted and kept wicket consistently well but was plagued by a nagging tennis elbow complaint and David Huntingford bowled an excellent line. All four made successful transitions into the club's adult sides. Jack Jacobs, Marcello De Crescenzo and Matthew Dias maintained an accurate attack. Jack Jacobs took four wickets in consecutive deliveries for against Edmonton and was presented with an inscribed trophy mounted with the ball at Colts' Annual Supper in November.

Leading Under 15 statistics:

Josh Berman 271 runs (average 27.10)

Mark Hughes 205 runs (22.77)

Will Temple 153 runs (15.30)

Jack Jacobs 14 wickets

Marcello De Crescenzo 12 wickets

David Huntingford 9 wickets

Josh Berman 7 wickets

The Under 13s ended 3rd equal in their division largely due to accurate bowling from William Dias and Niroosh Sugumaran. Niroosh genuinely quick deliveries and was very effective. Alfie Packer volunteered to captain and kept wicket well. All-rounders William Dias and Toby Bamber showed their talent, while Callum Silva improved his bowling significantly. Of the Under 12s, Joe Hicketts and Harvey Lowe held their own with the older age group. The boys' progress was very evident and encouraging.

The Under 11s narrowly finished last in their division. The batting was inconsistent with only captain Christian McLoughlin batting regularly well and keeping wicket tidily. Other batting contributions came largely from James Dangerfield, William McArdle and Ben Showell. James Dangerfield and Ben Showell were able to provide occasional significant batting support. Henry Thompson was the most successful bowler with 9 wickets, followed by James Dangerfield and Joe Brown, but everyone generally bowled tidily and with enthusiasm.

Awards presented at the Annual Supper were:

Under 10 Performance: James Dangerfield
 Under 10 Endeavour: Henry Thompson
 Under 11 Performance: Christian McLoughlin
 Under 11 Endeavour: George Watson
 Under 13 Performance: William Dias
 Under 13 Endeavour: Niroosh Sugumaran
 Under 15 Performance: Josh Berman
 Under 15 Endeavour: Noah Bergman

Southgate caps were awarded to William Dias, Alfie Packer, Callum Silva, Matthew Dias and David Huntingford.

The club is especially grateful to John Williams, Jeremy Dangerfield and Colin Fox for giving so much of their time for training and match managing.
