2013 Season Review

Well, at least we won something this year ...

Southgate CC Under 21s claim the Middlesex Cricket Board Development Shield; the Hertgate Trophy falls to a victorious Southgate team; ... and oh, so nearly, the 3rd XI cruelly manipulated out of promotion back into the Middlesex County League.

Read about the facts and figures of the 2013 season!

THE 2013 SEASON

Ricky Gunn

2013 should have been a summer of cricketing consolidation as we picked ourselves up from the disappointments of the previous year's campaign. This was largely achieved with the 1st XI re-establishing itself as a competitive side and although finishing 6th, were only four points behind the 3rd side, with five clubs finishing within a five-point band.

Just that one win that got away would have made such a visible difference to our final placing. The side was rocked even before the first league match by the new captain Faisal Mir's Achilles tendon injury incurred when batting in the early season National Cup round against Colchester & East Essex. It was an unfortunately catastrophic start for Faisal who sat on the sidelines until 3rd August by which time three-quarters of the major games had been played.

Tasmanian (but via St Kilda CC, Melbourne) Chris Blake batted reliably to score 743 league runs at an average marginally under 50, and Tom Edrich continued to blossom with 609 at 43.50. Both batsmen scored their maiden Middlesex League hundreds away at Shepherds Bush, sharing an opening partnership of 217. David Woffinden bowled like a dream mesmerising batsmen with late movement in the air to take 38 1st XI League wickets at a miserly 13.71. Ashley Sivarajah continued his rapid progress to take 36 wickets at 23.16 while Rob Johnson bolstered the attack with 23 at 20.00. The 2nd XI won five of their first ten league games but faltered in the second half of the season to finish fifth. However, they enjoyed a winning draw and a spectacular away win against Ickenham (chasing a daunting 327) who in fact won promotion. The momentum must be maintained in order to ratchet ourselves away from third division opposition and back into mainstream company. The 2nd XI scored a lot of runs between them, with Max Joseph (372) and Karl Jankowicz (369) the principal scorers and Adeel Saeed scoring two early centuries. The bowlers, however, didn't take a commensurate number of wickets, with only Sam Faruqi and Suresh Kalagara (24 each) providing a consistent threat.

By the end of the final league day the 3rd XI had won the 1987 Cricket League Division One championship, only for this to be snatched away from them a fortnight later by a penalty reversal in favour of Middlesex Tamils SSC. It was all the more ironic in that the first game of the season against MTSSC was drawn but only because a blatant catch had been turned down through the combined ignorance of the striker and his 'umpiring' colleague. However, it had been a very successful and enjoyable season and Mike Carter is to be congratulated on coaxing a regularly variable side into a winning unit. The 4th XI invariably failed to raise enough players to field a side and, although some games deemed as friendlies were played, the side was scratched from the 5th Division of the 1987 League to our acute embarrassment.

Jamie Jouning, in his limited appearances this year, added almost 200 runs to his record 1st XI League aggregate and is still a tantalisingly 115 short of Finchley's Mike Milton's record of 7,943. Alvin Durgacharan finds himself agonisingly anchored on 4,979 1st XI League runs, and Tuan Hadgie on 99 wickets. Congratulations to Tom Edrich who exceeded 1,000 runs in the season (1,222), the first time since Alvin Durgacharan in 2009. Hearty congratulations too, to Adrian Carr who has just reached 9,000 career runs for Southgate to complement his 1,075 wickets.

Many thanks to President Peter Jouning who maintains a high profile at the club, attending regular meetings, and masterminding a summer lunch for former presidents, vice-presidents and honorary members and Christmas lunch for all members. His active promotion of the 200 Club, a vital source of additional funds for the club, has resulted in a surge of membership so that numbers sold now amount to 180.

John Troughton

John Troughton died on 19th July aged 88. Elected to the club in 1941, John was an opening batsman for the Extra 1st XI at a time when the club entertained two 1st XI oppositions on each match day.

A former Westminster (later NatWest) Bank manager, John served the Club in many capacities between 1959 and 1976, chairing the General Committee and various sub-committees in addition to being Honorary Club Treasurer 1966-70. In the early '80s he served as a Trustee of the Walker Trust. He regularly attended club social functions and was a keen member of Old Fold Golf Club.

On the field, John's top score was his 107 for the 2nd XI away against Stort in 1961. In 1952 he shared in a second wicket partnership of 146 with Horace Wass, scoring 60 in a 1st XI home match against Blackheath. His last game was for the 2nd XI against Loughton in 1970, when as a fellow victim we collapsed to 17-7 before Iain Walls and Peter Heard effected a recovery, after which John probably felt enough was enough!

As a 16 year-old in 1941 John completed a hat-trick against the Public School Wanderers XI.

An immensely likeable man, he will be much missed. Our sincere condolences go to Sylvia and the family.

1st XI Report

Faisal Mir

The 2013 campaign for the Southgate 1st team was very much an exercise of rebuilding and transition at the club. After our dismissal performance in the Prem the year before where we were blown away in most matches, we realised that the team we had was simply not good enough for that league and it was time to go back to the drawing board.

It was a great honour to be elected club captain after being backed by the senior and younger members within the club and the emphasis was going to be on change. The vision is to try to build a squad good enough within 2/3 years to achieve promotion into the top league and consolidate our position in that league. I've been part of the squad for the last three occasions when we have been relegated from the Prem within the last 10 years, only surviving the 2003 season; the rest we've been relegated in the same season. The plan is to build a side good enough to ensure our position in the Prem as ultimately it's where you need to be playing as a cricketer and a good breeding ground to attract more top quality players.

So leading into the season after a good pre-season of planning and winter netting, the aim was to throw the youngsters in at the deep end and give them the chance to take their opportunities and become match winners. The three in particular whom I've played with in the last few years who are the central focus and nucleus to my plans are Phil Dunnett (appointed vice-captain), Tom Edrich (who showed us glimpses of his talent the previous year) and Ashley Sivarajah (who bowled well in the last two years). All were to be given the prime slots in the side after discussing their roles with them in the winter with the combination of myself and the other senior players contributing.

However, in the very first competitive game of the season in bizarre fashion a freak injury to my Achilles struck when batting in a run chase in the National against Colchester and East Essex at home ruling me out potentially for the rest of the season. Bitter pill to swallow and all sorts of thoughts running through my mind in regards to my best laid plans. However, much credit must be given to my young vice at the time Phil Dunnett who, after discussing and encouraging him, stepped up and agreed to skipper the side. Knowing my plans and that I would be there assisting him on and off the pitch albeit with one leg was more than enough for Phil to agree.

And so to the season:

The first half of the season was somewhat mixed with results. After getting a disappointing losing draw in our first game against Shepherds Bush where the weather intervened, the second game saw us get beaten by the eventual league winners North Mid with a notable 1st league 50 for young Tom Edrich and a very good 48 from our overseas recruit Chris Blake. The third game saw us at home against Harrow Town where we registered our first league win in twenty months after bowling superbly (Woffinden with 4 and our Blake with 3) restricting them to 108 and then Edrich seeing it through with a good 46 alongside Phil with 19. A great sight to see the youngsters seeing it through and very much part of the transition period. The squad felt that the monkey was well and truly off our back and it was time to kick on.

Unfortunately the following game against Harrow St Mary's (who would end up beating us twice in the year) didn't quite go to script. Getting inserted on a damp one, we were skittled for a relatively low score of 115 which they ended up knocking off with relative ease. The next game at home saw the side bounce back with a good win over high flying Brentham with Woffinden in the wickets again (3) and young Ashley Sivarajah announcing himself with a tidy bowling display which ended up in him getting three also. Another 50 from Edrich which we were all getting used to by now and a great 72* from Blake who really put Brentham to the sword saw us claim a well-earned 10 points.

The weather played its part in the next game at Uxbridge and we ended up with four points after trying to chase down 187 in 20 overs. The following game would see us at home against Brondesbury, a team who had come down with us from the Prem and a good test to see where we were. With overs being reduced, the game was shortened and we were left with 48 overs to chase 196, a brave declaration we thought and very much achievable. However, with a quartet of decent seamers Brondesbury really put the skids on us and we were never in the hunt. Not for the first time this season we were bowled out in the penultimate over and didn't really deserve anything.

Newly promoted Ickenham were next at home and the side once again bounced back with a telling victory bowling the oppo out for 97, the chief destroyer Dave Woffinden with a 6-fer alongside Ashley who bowled well. Edrich seeing it through with another good 44 not out was pleasing. What was encouraging at this point from the sidelines was that the team after a loss were putting the record straight by winning in the very next game but ultimately consistency proved to be a real problem throughout the season and the second half would portray that.

The final game of the first half the season saw us travel to Harrow where truth be told we should have won the game or at least got four points but ended up getting one by not figuring out the correct run rate. Our triple threat of slow bowlers (Woffs - 3, Ash - 2 and Haseeb - 3) all playing their part and restricting Harrow to 207. After getting off to a good start and looking set to win comfortably we failed to get the four point total ending up on 200 when it was 201 needed. Bitterly disappointing but positives were yet another good steady innings of 72 from Edrich.

Lying in mid-table, the second half of the campaign started away at Shepherds Bush on one of the hottest days of the year coupled with our best batting display of the year. The Bush after winning the toss inserted us and how they would regret it. A batting master class from Chris Blake and Tom Edrich ensued resulting in a 217 run opening partnership. Maiden tons in the league for the new Southgate opening pair, great signs moving forward. Declaring after 50 overs on 285 gave us a chance but on such a benign pitch it was always going to be hard work. Woffs with another 4-fer and Ash picking up two bowled really well but could only manage to get them eight down but a decent four points nevertheless.

The next test was against top of the table North Midd who were demolishing teams week in week out and were looking the real deal after threatening in past seasons. After restricting them to 202 of 55 overs with a fine bowling display from yet again Woffs (3-fer) and Ash (4-fer) bowling 21 overs straight there was a real sense of belief that 202 in 45 overs was chaseable. Once again our batting would let us down although credit must be given North Midd who produced the best bowling display of the year against us, skittling us for 105.

As consistency would prove, we bounced back the very next game dishing it out to Harrow Town bowling them out for 139. This could have been much lower if it wasn't for their number 10 who managed to get 40. Ashley (3-fer) and Woffinden (5-fer again) bowling 20 overs each in tandem with two good run-outs. The chase would be a fairly easy one and would leave us everything to play for going into the backend of the campaign, especially with the news that the skipper who had responded well to his treatment and after some fairly intense rehab would be back for the last six games.

A special mention and thank you must be given to my vice Phil Dunnett who did a fantastic job in my absence under some real testing times with no more than four ex-captains in the side. To captain, keep wicket and bat in the top order was probably too much a burden on such young shoulders but Phil really took it in his stride and did a thoroughly good job. He more or less carried out the blueprint of what was discussed between himself and me on a Friday night and in the off-season to ensure that the team was on the right track.

The first game back for myself was against Harrow St Mary's who after getting promoted last year were proving that they belonged in this division with a win against Brondesbury a few weeks earlier. Winning the toss we decided to bowl and for 40 overs looked on top of things 135-6. Good signs with some tight bowling and backed up by good fielding. However, the last 12 overs were somewhat ill disciplined and ended up in us handing them 110 runs resulting in them reaching 242 in 53 overs. A tough target to chase but the team were in the mood to have a good stab at it. Chris Blake (64) got us off to a flyer but with wickets falling we were always up against it. As was the case throughout the season, the middle order did not fire and we were left with a bitter taste in our mouth as we ended up handing the 10 points to them after collapsing and getting bowled out with nine balls to spare.

The next game saw us at Brentham and was very similar to the loss the week earlier; however, we managed to grab a point after bowling really well for 49 overs restricting them to 186-8 but couldn't quite finish them off and they meandered to 217 off the maximum 55 overs. Very frustrating as all the bowlers bowled well but we couldn't land that telling blow but a target we thought was very chaseable. However, early wickets meant once again we were up against it. A dismal performance with the bat resulted in us reaching 132-8 off 45 overs with the only shining light being Tom Edrich who belied his years and batted through the entire innings with a gutsy 72*. A very pleasing innings from Tom and one which showed real character and maturity.

With other results not going our way and with only four games to go in a very tight compressed league we were hovering towards the bottom end of the table. A home game against Uxbridge which in hindsight would be our worst performance of the year saw us capitulate to new levels. Again after bowling with great discipline and fielding excellently we restricted Uxbridge to 174 with the duo of Ashley (5-fer) and Woffinden (2-fer) the chief tormentors ably backed up by Blake and Johnson. The chase started in great fashion with Chris Blake (88) blitzing it to all parts and it would look like an early finish the way he was playing. Then disaster struck with two unnecessary run-outs which completely shifted the momentum of the game. The score read 137-4 after those two run outs and what followed after that was a complete aberration. Having needing only 40 runs off 20 overs we somehow managed to collapse (not for the first time) to 153 all out meaning the last six wickets falling for 16 runs.

A few choice words were spoken in the dressing room by a bitterly disappointing skipper but we had to move on and learn from it to try to get something in the last three games.

All fixtures the following week were a complete wash out and so the remaining two games we needed to get maximum points to salvage some pride and get up that table, back to back wins not achieved all year.

The penultimate game was against second to bottom Ickenham, the toss was lost and we were inserted on a very good looking track. Chris Blake (88) made full use of this alongside Tom Edrich and both put on a fantastic hundred partnership with Chris despatching the ball to all parts of the ground with his powerful strokeplay and Edrich being a great foil at the other end. Typically a mid-order mini collapse after drinks ensued but some good late resistance from the lower order got us to 270 of 55 overs. Some powerful top order hitting saw Ickenham get off to a flyer in the first 10 overs with the score on 80 but the introduction of the ever reliable twin pairing of Dave Woffinden and now Ashley Sivarajah slowed things up dramatically. Woffinden (4-fer) bowled with great control in his last league match and tied the batters up in all sorts of knots. Ashley (3-fer) at the other end did what he had done so well this year and closed his end up as well as asking probing questions. Both as they have been doing all season bowled great in tandem and have also formed a formidable partnership. To be honest they haven't given the other slow bowlers a look-in which is a good thing even though Haseeb Bajwa came on at the end and picked up the last three wickets. A much needed 10 points and a great sign that the team was finally clicking late on in the season.

The final league game saw us against third place Harrow and, after the debacle at their place, a little pay back was in order. Our performance in our last fixture at home was of pure dominance. With the toss negotiated we decided to bowl and the opening pair of Blake and Mir set the tone troubling the batters from the off. This continued throughout the whole innings with Ashley/Berman and Johnson as well as Haseeb bowling well. It's fair to say it was one of the most polished bowling displays on the field we have churned out in the 2013 season and something to look forward to going into next season.

Blake and Edrich broke the spine of the chase with a 90 run partnership with Chris (another 81!) in imperious form dominating from ball one and the game was won with 15 overs to spare. Chris was been a great acquisition for the club this year and it is tragic for Southgate that he has chosen to set greater challenges for himself elsewhere next year. His bowling came on leaps and bounds and he would have become a greater asset next year.

So we finish off in mid table at the end of the season with a points tally of 72, only four points behind third.

Looking back at the season as a whole I would say that consistency was our downfall. If we could have just finished teams off or kept our disciplines we would have certainly ended up as third best or maybe even challenged for promotion. Yes, the team was experimented with and changes were made with the old guard making way for the youngsters but that was always the plan.

The transition period and the plan to rebuild has certainly come to fruition this year with most of the boxes ticked. It was always going to be difficult to rebuild a 1st team that can carry Southgate forward as I can't recall it being done in my time at Southgate, but the youngsters have really grasped their opportunities and proved they are genuine 1st team players now.

The key contributors this year with the bat have been the new dynamic opening duo of Chris Blake and Tom Edrich. Both have had an outstanding year scoring 1350 league runs between them with Chris in his first season just missing out on being the league's top run scorer by 12 runs. He scored 743 runs with an average of 49.53 with five fifties and a hundred. Tom has had a fantastic first season opening the batting, scoring 609 runs with an average of 43.50 with four fifties and a superb maiden league hundred.

On the bowling front Dave Woffinden and Ashley Sivarajah were the standouts. It was a real breakthrough year for Ash as I had given him the backing he was going to be the 1st choice spinner in the side and he duly obliged with 36 wickets bowling an incredible 222 overs.

Dave Woffinden has been a captain's dream picking up 38 wickets with his subtle variations and vast experience as well as his brilliant control.

In summary the foundations for a new team have been built and next year will be a very important year for the club. We must strive to be the best in that league as I believe with one or two additions we should be in the mix for promotion; however, between now and then a lot of hard work has to be done.

We are by no means the finished article and the thing which probably let us down the most this season has been our batting. Apart from the opening pair of Blake and Edrich who amassed 1350 runs between them not one batsmen passed 200 runs. The bowling has been very good with Woffinden and Ashley picking up 74 wickets between them. These bowling and batting numbers usually puts a side right up there in the promotion mix at the end of the season providing other guys in the team have contributed but the truth is no-one has really come to the party so it's very much something to think about next year for all concerned.

I'd just like to thank all that have been involved with the side this year; I have a very good feeling about our chances next year providing we work hard and improve on our efforts this year.

Southgate members RIP

Along with several more prominent older members of Southgate Cricket Club who have died over the last year and are reported elsewhere in this publication, it is sad to relate the loss of three Honorary Members: Pam Boadella, Pat Slipper and Ron ("The Postman") Hamilton. Pam and her late husband Geoff came to Southgate in the 1970s after very many years with Northampton Polytechnic CC. After Geoff died, Pam finally moved to Suffolk to be with her daughter Janet and husband Nigel Bishop, both active SCC members. Pat Slipper died on 22nd March from stomach cancer, less than three years after her husband and Southgate stalwart Geoff. Ron Hamilton had been unwell for several months and died on 26th June aged 74. He was a loyal supporter and would come up to the ground for a lager after finishing his post round even if there was no cricket. He was also a Middlesex county member and both clubs suffered from his dry and perceptive criticisms. Our former caterer and ex-Shepherds Bush player Russell Collins died suddenly in retirement in Kent on 1st June. Our condolences go to all their families: we shall miss them all.

2nd XI

There is no season's report available but an account of the final league match is worth reproducing here as a record of an incredible achievement. The documented club records indicate this is the highest ever "chased down" total, the previous record being 302 for 2 by the 4th XI v South Hampstead IV (1987 League) at Haydon Hall in 2004.

Ickenham II v Southgate II at Ickenham 7 September 2013

Southgate won by 3 wickets; Southgate 10 points

Ickenham 327-2 dec (45 overs)

Southgate 331-7 (53 overs)

K Jankowicz 80, M Hughes 75, S Ellis 40

The second team came into the final game of the season with nothing to play for but pride! The greatest prize of all. After winning the toss and deciding to bowl we were faced with an opening partnership that included their Kiwi overseas pro who smashed us for 90 odd off about 3 overs at the Walker Ground earlier in the season. We knew that an early wicket was essential and, 261 runs later, we had our well-deserved wicket! Goldstone, the young Kiwi, was eventually out for 161, LBW to Jankowicz in a fantastic spell of bowling, ending one of the finest displays of batting that I have ever seen. Unlike the innings at our place, in which we dropped him second ball and went on to drop him three more times, this innings was literally chanceless.

At 45 overs Ickenham declared at 327 for 2 with the other opener, Crompton, not out for 119.

NB – Tea had some fantastic profiteroles.

So 328 from 55 overs was the target we had ahead of us. Jankowicz and Hughes strode out to the crease with the team feeling a strange sense of optimism over the huge task that laid ahead of us. Like theirs, our opening partnership got off to a fantastic start. Hughes played the most splendid innings for his 75. He showed an array of shots hitting 4s on the ground to all areas of the field with his only 6 sailing into sight screen from the best hit leading edge I have had pleasure to witness. Jankowicz led the charge and used his feet to upset the length of the opening bowlers which allowed him to hit numerous 6s, including the biggest 6 I have ever seen – I swear the ball was still rising as it flew over the sight screen to be lost forever!

After losing the opening pair Southgate never fell far below the required run-rate but did keep losing wickets. Each batsman made a contribution including a trademark, rapid 40 from Ellis, including 24 from an over (no biggie).

But it was left to the youngsters to finish it off. De Crescenzo, making his 2nd team debut, made a valuable contribution near the end before Stratten and Kalagara, unbeaten on 23 and 24 respectively, finished off the best run chase of the season, Kalagara hitting a final 6 to end the game with over four overs to spare.

Ted Major

Seymour (Ted) Major died on 11 December 2013 aged 82.

Elected to the club in 1952, Ted served Southgate well in various secretarial positions and on numerous sub-committees. He played mostly 2nd XI cricket but captained the Extra 1st XI in 1969-70. He will be remembered for his strong character and friendly manner. A well-known local solicitor, many members have been grateful for his help and advice.

Mike Dunn remembers: “Ted Major was an old friend of Southgate. Older players and members will remember him as a stand-up wicket keeper and 'nudger', and also as a great friend of many people. He turned to golf in later life, owning a house on one of the Spanish courses for warmer weather.

“Privately he had many interests. He practised as a solicitor in Enfield. He could trace his family history back over centuries. He was never short of conversation, and was a man you could always trust.”

In 1980 Ted and Mary retired to Ireland to run a hotel but it was too successful and he was far too busy for his liking so he returned to England and resumed his law practice. It was while in Ireland that he joined the local village cricket club to discover he was the only right-handed player in the side. He was a genuinely generous man and he excused the blue Rolls Royce on the grounds that he had accepted it in lieu of payment from a client who couldn't otherwise pay his fees.

Mike Dunn remarks further “It was his kindness perhaps that I will recall most. You do not meet that kind of man so much today. He was certainly in my top three gentlemen who I have been fortunate to call friends during my 73 years. I personally will miss him greatly.”

Peter Davies recalls “I, too, have many happy memories of (the later years of) Ted's playing career, in the Sunday 2nd XI and the A XI. I was, in fact, captain when he scored what I believe was his only century for the club, away against North London on the Calthorpe ground. Batting first, I had delayed the declaration more than somewhat as Ted entered the 90s, but as five o'clock sounded felt that we couldn't reasonably bat on much longer (the score being 200+ as I recall), so I signalled that there would be just one more over. Ted – whose innings thus far had consisted primarily of the “nudges” that Micky mentions – promptly hit the bowler back over his head for an enormous straight six to reach his ton, and strode purposely off the field acknowledging the applause!”

I would add that when he got back to Southgate that night, nobody needed to put their hand in their pocket for the rest of the evening.

We at Southgate offer our sincere condolences to Mary, Seymour jnr, Christianne and their families and are grateful to have known such a unique individual as Ted Major.

4th XI League

THE 1987 CRICKET LEAGUE 2013

Insufficient players made themselves available for much of the season for the club to be able to field a fourth strength Saturday side in Division 5 of the 1987 Cricket League. This was all the more astonishing in view of the numbers of maturing colts theoretically on the books but both they and those adults who had dallied with the 4th XI in previous years either felt they had other priorities or found themselves precipitated into the 3rd XI.

Having scratched five out of the first six fixtures we automatically forfeited our right to take part in the competition and the only result to date was peremptorily erased from the records. However, although we lost that intervening match to Bessborough IV, it did provide Doug Gordon an opportunity to score a sheet anchor 96. Six further fixtures were played at a “friendly” level as players become available and another game disappeared when North Middlesex failed to arrive under the mistaken belief that the 4th XI had been disbanded for the season. All very unsatisfactory, and we have had to fight a battle to be allowed to remain in the 1987 League for 2014. I have given my word to the league luminaries that we will not disappoint them.

Stats have consequently ‘marked time’ for a year as no competitive results were recorded in 2013.

Southgate Colts

At last we could enjoy a summer with very little interference from bad weather and as the 2013 campaign drew to a close it saw the Under 11s and Under 13 sides win their respective 2nd division titles and the Under 15s avoid relegation in a strong division, so all three teams will begin the 2014 season at 1st division status.

The number of active colts between the ages of 8 and 15 totalled 82. We were once again heavily reliant on Jeremy Dangerfield (Under 13s) Adrian Carr (Under 11s) and Doug Gordon (Under 10s) but Mark Hughes and Will Temple again provided valuable support at the junior end. Shiv-Raj Shah and Mustapha Mirza also assisted to very useful effect as did Graham Clark with the Under 13s and a number of parents with the Under 11s. Ricky Gunn filled in wherever required on the busy Monday night sessions but managed the Under 15s training on Sunday mornings.

Middlesex East Area Colts competitions

Under 15s

Because of other sporting commitments, Sunday morning practice was seldom attended by more than ten colts and invariably fewer. However, new arrivals Yash Depala and Anuj Shah, joined later by Louis Stirling augmented the team to useful effect and both practice and matches were tackled with good spirit. However, we lacked the regular services of some of the stronger players for most of the games because of other evening demands.

The skipper Mustapha Mirza generally led by example, his batting powerful when it came off and his bowling always treated with utmost respect by the oppositions. Without wishing to sound unkind, however, his theories in the field were at times puzzling and seemed based on inspiration rather than logical thought. Mustapha scored the most runs (147 at 18.38) but too often fell victim to impatience. When he stayed at the wicket he could be highly productive and his unbeaten 50 against Winchmore Hill B proved by the end of the campaign to be a valuable win for the side. His bowling was fast and accurate and although he only took six wickets at 15 runs apiece he always put pressure on the batsmen.

Ravi Martin took 10 wickets at an average of 14 and was genuinely quick. However, at times he found the atmospheric conditions difficult to contend with and his quick natural away-swingers found themselves propelling wide past the slips at just the time when we needed to tie down the opposition. Tom Cura became a vital cog in the side and scored 123 runs at 17.57 and has a very safe pair of hands. His persistence in working to improve his game is to be congratulated.

Christian McLoughlin kept wicket tidily and was not afraid to stand up to the quicker bowlers and put pressure on the batsman looking to drive from outside the crease. After a nightmare start of three ducks in the first four games he put some more consistent scores together to finish with 113 at 12.56. Yash Depala proved a useful all-rounder, Ishaan Verma bowled tidily and with some success and Harvey Lowe's limited appearances were usually successful with the bat although the accuracy of his calling left something to be desired. Jack Lisamore's progress week by week was marvellous to see and his left-arm bowling (plus his flick for four to win the last critical game) showed how he had made himself indispensable.

Under 13s

The under 13's success came from an excellent team spirit and commitment. James Dangerfield captained maturely, scored runs and took eight catches. Henry Thompson bowled aggressively and scored important runs. Liam Babwah, Joe Lisamore, Tom Clark, William McCardle, Joe Brown and Devin Dhanki all made significant contributions with bat or ball and the whole squad played a part in winning the division title.

Jeremy Dangerfield

Under 11s

In 2013 the U11s had a very successful and enjoyable season, culminating in promotion from their Division and entry and some progress in the wider county knockout competition.

Everything crystallised mid-season after we were defeated by the narrowest of margins away at Cockfosters. The players understood that we had lost by virtue of the number of wides conceded and that in sticky conditions which prevented the hitting of boundaries, our inability to run and/or judge singles (we suffered five run-outs) meant that the scoring ground to a halt.

After spending almost the entirety of the following Monday evening's training session doing nothing more than practising running singles and concentrating on bowling straight we thereafter proceeded to reel off a run of stunning victories which saw us finish top of the league.

The mainstays of the batting were Tom Stanton and Sulaiman Mirza's powerful hitting and Liam Patel and Edward McArdle's innings building maturity. Harry Showell, William McLoughlin, Alex Stanton and Gautam Datta all showed immense promise which I'm sure will be translated into a weight of runs next year when they are bigger and stronger but still Under 11.

The bowling stars were Alan Babwah, Harry Showell and Alex Stanton who all seemed to take wickets every time they bowled. Ollie Gakhar, Gautam Datta, Liam Patel and Tom Stanton also showed good bowling techniques without necessarily taking as many wickets as they may have expected.

By the end of the season the fielding had reached a very high standard with Liam Patel, Harry Showell, Sulaiman Mirza, Omar Khan and Dillan Patel especially excelling.

The season was closed with a most enjoyable Boys v Fathers match on the main pitch rounded off by a wonderful curry kindly provided by Liam's mum.

Adrian Carr

Under 10s

The Under 8 to Under 10 section thrived under Doug Gordon's supervision with the valuable energetic support of Mark Hughes and Will Temple. Many of the Year 5s will be needed to augment the Under 11 side in 2013 and their grounding at this basic level will be invaluable to them as they engage competitive cricket for the first time. Alex Stanton in particular performed well in the Under 11 league games in 2013 and his experience will put him in good stead to lead the side in the coming season.

Colts Awards 2013

Thanks to a strong battalion of highly supportive parents, a total of 71 attended the Colts Supper and Awards Evening on 11th October.

Awards were presented to the following young players:

Performance:

Under 15 Mustapha Mirza

Under 13 Henry Thompson

Under 11 Tom Stanton

Endeavour:

Under 15 Tom Cura

Under 13 Tom Clark

Under 11 Omar Khan

Under 10 Alex Stanton

Southgate Club caps were awarded to Ravi Martin, Tom Cura, Henry Thompson and Tom Clark.

Again, a big 'thank you' on behalf of the club to all those helping with the colts. The encouragement and support on and off the field was exceptional this year, culminating in the magnificent curry evening run by the Under 11s parents but, in particular, masterminded by Shruti Patel and her husband Amit. A barbecue evening was also celebrated after a match between the Under 13s and their parents and coaches.

With Mark and Will now away at university we are critically in need of assistance next season at the junior end in particular – and anywhere else, come to that. Help from the club playing membership is a matter of necessity so please offer yourselves, even on rotation, for a couple of hours each week, April to July.

Guy Hammond

Guy Hammond (elected 1955) died on 17th January 2014 aged 90. Two months earlier, his daughter Jill had arranged a coach to take 24 friends from Southgate to visit him for his 90th birthday at his nursing home at Chessington which it was clear he – and his guests – enjoyed immensely.

Guy played chiefly for the 3rd XI and captained the side in the early 1960s. Playing as a top-order batsman, he scored his only hundred for the 3rd XI at home to Enfield III in 1965. A great organiser and perfect gentleman, Guy served on numerous committees for many years and was elected President of the Club in 1984, a position he held with great dignity for four years. During World War II he had served as a navigator on board an Avro Lancaster bomber and in business life worked for a shipping company in the City.

In later years he and his wife Doris regularly attended matches and the club's social functions. Always delightful company, he was a gentle, warm-hearted and caring man who looked after Doris when she developed Alzheimer's disease for some ten years. Shortly after she died, he himself suffered a devastating stroke which rendered him physically and vocally paralysed for the remaining four years of his life. Daughter Jill and her family arranged his move from Oakwood to a care home in Surrey near where they lived where she visited him every day. Behind that sadly inert face his eyes were very much alive and Jill could tell that his mind was still fully active in those last years.

Maciej Maciejewski

Jaroslaw Maciej Maciejewski died at the beginning of June from renal cancer after spending three weeks in hospital. He was 79.

Curiously, at the end of the last 1st XI League match in 2012 Peter Jouning said to Maciej " See you next year!". Maciej replied "Oh, no you won't." Peter assumed that he wasn't impressed with the idea of Division 2 cricket and thought no more about it. It may have been that Maciej knew he was ill and might not even survive the winter. All very enigmatic, consistent with the man.

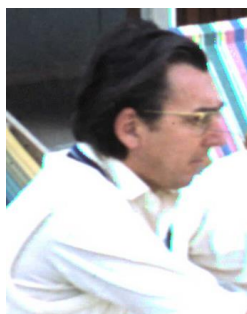

Just 13 mourners attended a curiously enlightening funeral at Honor Oak Crematorium, as different facets about Maciej became revealed to each person there. Derek Honnor read an account of Maciej's life: born in Warsaw in 1934, Maciej and his family moved to Germany to escape the overrun of Poland by the Nazis in 1939 but spent the war in a labour camp. Working in a kitchen, Maciej was able to smuggle out morsels for his parents. In 1945 they came to London and lived in Southgate High Street. Maciej attended Hazlewood School in Palmers Green and then Southgate County School in Fox Lane before studying for a degree at the LSE where, according to Maciej, he played a lot of bridge. He took over his father's printing business in Southwark and branched into LP album covers where he met the leading popular recording artists of the 1970s. In more recent years he worked with (or more likely against!) Sandy White at Sandy's packaging plant in Palmers Green.

He was very knowledgeable on paintings, opera and classical music – and quick to admonish anyone who transgressed against audience etiquette. As well as supporting Southgate 1st XI through thick and thin - but not without an ascerbic critical opinion - he was also very keen on tennis which he played well into old age.

On the field he was always immaculately attired in professionally laundered shirt and trousers. He was a left-hand bat and in his earlier days bowled left-arm medium pace. He scored 101 against Winchmore Hill 'B' in 1974 but the achievement was rather overshadowed when they came to field because Jim Stokes proceeded to take all ten wickets – an account Maciej found fun in retelling.

Maciej's funeral was a unique and moving occasion. One of his former female colleagues from Sandy White's company remarked during her tribute "I wonder what Maciej would have made of this? He would probably look down at us and say "Haven't you all got anything better to do?!""
